

Susan Grogan:

I've been painting most of my life. Although I've worked with many different mediums, watercolor is my favorite. I love to paint anything that catches my eye. Every time I start a new project, I'm excited, knowing I'll learn something new about painting. Painting from real life seems to bring a special freshness to my work, and living in Cincinnati gives me many opportunities to paint wonderful subjects. My life as an artist is lots of fun and full of challenges, too.

Susan is a graduate of Northern Campbell Vocational Technical School, where she studied Commercial Art. As a co-op student, she hand painted curio cabinets for a Furniture company. After graduation, she got a position in an advertising department as a fashion illustrator, and then continued her art career as a freelance artist. She is currently a member of the Queen City Art Club, and Greater Cincinnati Watercolor Society. She also teaches painting classes at M. E. Lyons YMCA, Miami Township Civic Center, and Hobby Lobby Eastgate. You can contact her at artbysusan@aol.com.
